The Yal of the Ancient Tamils, Margaret Bastin, has provided with a good abstract. Now is the time for her to produce both textual and iconographic evidence in full along with rigorous and meticulous explanations for the phases of her reconstruction of the instrument along with her reasons for each decision in this respect without which merit to her cannot be properly evaluated.